

AFLPU Notice of Position Opening

Position: Director of Player Affairs and Development

Duties/Responsibilities: The Player Affairs and Development position ensures players are aware, educated and informed, to actively guard their collectively bargained rights and benefit from union programs, resources and services. In addition to empowering players to focus on matters that will enhance their transitions through the AFLPU pipeline, the Player Affairs and Development position works with Player Representatives, as liaisons, to provide on and off-the-field direction through mentorship programs, comprehensive injury, workers compensation, financial services and other membership assistance. The Player Affairs and Development position also works with AFLPU Executives the Player Board and the AFL to jointly administer the terms of the Collective Bargaining Agreement. The position reports to the Executive Committee.

Travel: The position will require flexibility to travel on short notice as well as travel to AFLPU meetings, games, bargaining sessions, arbitration hearings and other events as assigned.

Location: The position is an “at large” position with 40% of the time spent working remotely and 60% spent working in office. Relocation is not initially required but subject to change with not less than a 90 day notice.

Requirements: The candidate should have considerable experience (5+ yrs) in professional sports labor with preference given for AFL, NFL or CFL experience. Knowledge and education of collective bargaining and professional athlete rights and benefits is desirable. Previous service as a professional AFL, NFL or CFL player with experience serving as a Union member, elected Team Representative or Player Union Representative/Executive is required. Ability to utilize technology including Microsoft Office programs, email, social media and other forms of relevant programs/platforms.

Compensation: Based on experience